A monthly newsletter for
The Gypsy Tolers

Proud chapter of the Society of Decorative Painters

Hi everybody,

Missing all of you in this uncertain world. None of us know eventually what our new “normal” will evolve into. We can only hope to return to our pre-COVID-19 normal.

Thank goodness many of us have our art as our passion, hobby or just a pleasure we use to take up our time. I hope it has brought you a sense of peace and escape from the real world of today.

By the time you read this, I will have my shop re-opened and the world will be on its way to recovery and re-creating our daily lives. I was truly hoping we could resume meeting in August, but I can't get any answers from the community center.

So until we meet again my sincere wish is that you all stay well and as happy as you can be!

Grateful for all of you—Judy

Carm Brooker

Hello Gypsies.

Wow! Another month. I hope you and your families are all well. Thankfully, I have stayed healthy and so has my family. Save your money ladies. There will be drawings again, just as there will be meetings. In the meantime it is always good to stay busy.

For me it's back to my "donate to Gypsy's" wood pile. You know, the things I said I would never get around to painting or bought six of with the best of intentions. I pulled three large pieces out of there last month. Surprisingly they all ended up pretty well.

Hope to see you all soon.

Happy painting and stay safe.

Hi every one:

If we get to go to Gypsies, I would like shorts and tops and sandals. Stay safe and hope we can get together soon!

Being cooped up at home can drive you bonkers! Here are some ideas for ways to stay sane during these challenging times:

1. Call/text/FaceTime your friends: Check in on your friends, some may be experiencing fear or anxiety. Hearing from you may brighten their day.
2. Keep a journal: Writing down your feelings may help you feel better!
3. Revisit the music you listened to when you were younger: Music heals the soul and can soothe the savage beast!
4. Read a Book: Libraries are closed now, but a free app called Overdrive lets you access hundreds of ebooks and audiobooks with just your library card number.
5. Keep up with your passions: From painting to cooking to learning new dance moves! Just do it!
6. Learn a new skill: What better time to tackle a new language you have always wanted to learn, or how to crochet or do macramé!
7. Donate: If you can, donate to charity. Feeding America, American Red Cross, American Cancer Society. Lots of charities with an increased need for donations.
8. Do research on the upcoming election: Trying to stay non-political... but the election will be here soon, and your vote matters!
9. Spend time with family and pets: Remember to play with, hug, and take selfies with your pets. They are glad you are home. Your family too!
10. Relax: The news can be overwhelming right now, but take social media breaks, have a PJ day, and do what makes you happy! Remember to eat healthy, and engage in self-care. Take a walk in your neighborhood, reflect on what you are grateful for, and take some quiet time for yourself.
